

Miller & Carter, Wheathampstead Part of the Mitchells & Butlers Group

"I have been very impressed with the speed of service and high level of communication I have received from Apex Radio Systems, especially Matthew who has helped me every step of the way and answered all my demands, (and believe me I demanded a lot!).

The quotes and invoices given were concise and easy to read with all the breakdown explained.. no fine print which I found most refreshing.

Due to the professional service given many of the business in my brand have used Apex, and we expect that Apex could possibly be used across many brands in the future.

The radio mic system we have decided on has been most beneficial to us helping to control the restaurant and Expo during peak shifts allowing us to turn tables quicker, avoid 'bottle necking' at peak times and communicating potential issues quickly.

I would recommend Apex as the best company to use for professional radio systems use."
